

Intro

Founded in 2002 from small beginnings with just one product range, Arora Design now boasts a portfolio of brands that continues to grow.

Based in the heart of England and the Scottish Borders, Arora Design prides itself in maintaining the character and personality of a small design led company despite the fact that it has grown significantly over time.

Since day one our ethos has been to develop unique and distinctly different product lines from both a technical and artistic perspective, to work with talented British artists and to maintain the development of products that are designed and created in the UK.

Our team here at Arora Design are focused on delivering customer service excellence with a personal touch, and we enjoy working with customers large and small from all over the world. The company regularly attends regional, national and international trade shows.

We are fiercely proud of our product designs and offerings and have received recognition in the Giftware Association's "Gift of the Year" awards on several occasions, with four of our product lines winning their categories in 2003, 2012, 2016 and 2019.
